

ABSTRACT

A device for monitoring a length of time a person has been immobile is provided comprising a power supply unit, control unit, pressure sensor, and warning unit. The warning unit is triggered by the control unit to alert a person that he/she has been immobile for a
5 prolonged period of time.

10